

TEACHER BOOT CAMP

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 2021, 1:00 – 5:00 PM (EST)

FREE TO ALL HEALTH SCIENCE EDUCATORS

Description: Are you a new teacher or a teacher in need of inspiration? Want to create impactful health science classroom experiences for your students? HSEA is sponsoring the Teacher Boot Camp, a series of five 45 minutes sessions throughout a 4-hour period.

The afternoon will feature a team of teachers sharing ideas to assist you in planning and producing effective health science education lessons and practices. Participants will be eligible for up to four professional development contact hours.

Register in advance

Attendees may drop in throughout the 4-hour camp selecting sessions of interest.

Sessions will begin every 45 minutes.

1:00 PM, 1:45 PM, 2:30 PM, 3:15 PM, 4:00 PM

Only one registration is required for all sessions.

After registering, you'll receive a confirmation email with login information. The camp will be recorded and posted at www.healthscienceconsortium.org/webinars

REGISTER TODAY TO LEARN ABOUT:

1:00 PM (EST) Amanda Bolin (SC)

A Walk Through the National Health Science Standards;
New to the Profession – Some Do's and Don'ts to Consider; & Using Nearpod

1:45 PM (EST) Karen Edwards (SC)

Classroom Management & Building Routines

2:30 PM (EST) Susie McEachern-Lauer (OK)

Adapting & Modifying Activities

3:15 PM (EST) Lou Anne Lively (OK)

Introduction to Health Science Education Curriculum for 9th or 10th graders;
Classroom Management for Younger Students; Anatomy Teaching Strategies

4:00 PM (EST) Toni McLemore (OK)

Use of Interactive Notebooks, Anatomy Models & the NCHSE Enhancements; & Integrating HOSA into the Classroom